VOL. LXI: No. 15 REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JULY 9, 1921 ESTABLISHED 1859

MORE HIGHWAYS NEEDED ALONG THE PENINSULA

The peninsula's great and immediate need is for direct and unimpeded vehicle and rail transportation down San Mateo county to San Jose and to connect with interior points beyond. Of equal importance is the development of the wonderful residential districts in the county, which have no equal. In comparison with the growth of the East Bay Communities this district has remained almost dormant, due solely to inadequate transportation connection with San Francisco.

With the construction of the Dumbarton bridge, the eectrification of the Southern Pacific line and the construction of another highway from the city will do much to build up the peninsula.

The bridge and viaduct crossing the bay at Dumbarton, exactly west from the Niles gateway. This important pass is the only low grade opening through the range and is the present route of the Southern Pacific, Western Pacific, State Highway, Spring Valley aqueduct and the proposed Hetch Hetchy aqueduct. This should also be the route of the Santa Fe to San Francisco by trackage arrangements with the railroads now occupying the pass as this road, though coming from the south swings northward almost to Martines before approaching its bay terminals. At the proposed point of crossing, the channel of the bay is narrow and the requirements of navigation which is very limited, could be served by a drawbridge in the center, at a fraction of the expense that any bridge to the north would cost. The plan contemplates the crossing of the three railroads and extending to San Francisco to a union passenger depot. Two of these lines that have extensive and valuable freight terminals in San Francisco at present rely entirely on ferry boats to make the connection. In addition to reaching these terminals by all rail route, they would directly serve the proposed Point suggested in the Rastall report in which stress is laid on the "direct facilities of three trans-continental railroads," and would make San Francisco the real terminal and not merely the nominal terminal as it present. In the construction of improved rights-of-way up the peninsula, advantage could be taken of developing extensive industrial sites along the bay shore and the extention of San Francisco dock system. The logical connection to the highway crossing the bay would be the present bay shore road developed into a great boulevard. The electrification of the peninsula suburban lines, long overdue, should be delayed no longer, and provision made for them at the uptown depot.

BANK OF ITALY

Over 100,000 people attended the opening of the Bank of Italy's new head office building at Market, Powell and Eddy streets, San Francisco. The handsome new edifice is the second largest building in the United States devoted exclusively to banking servcice. The building and property represent an investment of over $2,500,000.

A special feature of the building is a spacious safe deposit vault, the largest west of Chicago, with capacity for 26,000 boxes. Another unique feature is a large banking department for the exclusive use of women. This department occupies a large portion of the fourth floor. The furnishings and decorative schemes are typical feminine. The colorings are gray and mulberry. This is said to be the only department of its kind in connection with any bank on the Pacific coast.

The Bank of Italy has passed the $170,000,000 mark in resources, and it also has the largest number of depositors of any banking institution in the United States—the exact number being 167,206.

AUTO PARTIES ENJOY WEEK-END OUTINGS

A nice week-end trip for the autoist is to Santa Cruz. At present the mountain road is closed to traffic from San Jose to Santa Cruz. The best route at present is through Gilroy and Watsonville. About three miles south of Sergeant you leave the paved highway and encouter twelve miles of dirt road through a winding canyon. The csenery along this strip of road is beautiful but the road is not very pleasant to travel on. It is slightly over one hundred miles over this route and with fair driving requires about four and a half hours to make it from Redwood City. The countain road is about thirty-six miles shorter but will not be open to traffic for several weeks. A trip like the above is just the thing for week-end parties to enjoy.

single men of Redwood City. Great

Mr. Lalande was buried in the English cemetery at Oaxaca the day after his death.

May the sun shine all day and the moon sleep all night on that grave. May the first fleur de lis of the spring and the last rose of summer bloom among the grasses that cover his clay. May the softest breeze that blows from the Western sea kiss the cold stone above his head. May—May the winter wind itself, that elsewhere shrieks and screams, sing a soft lullaby around the spot where the angels have rocked him to sleep. May the God that "giveth every perfect gift," "who giveth his beloved sleep," grant him eternal rest and peace.

BUREAU CONSOLIDATION

The execution of the laws of the United States is exclusively the duty of the President, except where Congress, with the approval of the President, has created a board or commission to perform some special function. Upon the President, therefore, rests primarily, and almost exclusively, the responsibility for the manner in which the laws are administered and the results attained in both cast and efficiency. In the performance of the work of the government the executives in the past have established or secured the establishment of various bureaus which duplicate work done in other bureaus or which conduct work entirely foreign to the work of the departments in which they were incorporated.

President Harding has now recommended to the Joint Congressional Committee on Re-organization that an act be passed consolidating various bureaus and reassigning work with a view to eliminating duplication. Press dispatches say that "legislation, it is felt, may require some time," but there should be no fear of delay so far as Congress is concerned. It is stated that the members of the cabinet are unanimous in desiring the re-organization, and, since theirs is the responsibility for the character of service rendered, it may be safely asserted that whenever they make any specific recommendation for the consolidation of bureaus for the purpose of eliminating duplication and reducing public expense, the measure will be passed by Congress without any delay whatever. Reduction of taxes is the demand of the hour, and Congress will undoubtedly grant any authority that is asked in that direction.

THE DIFFERENCE

Advocates of the League of Nations profess to see no difference between the league and an association of nations for the purpose of promoting peace and disarmament. Stupid they are, indeed. By the provisions of the League covenant, the United States would bind itself to act in accordance with the decrees of a League council or assembly not only in the matter of war and armament, but in all other matters which could be interpreted as threatening war. That was the effect of the covenant, taken as a whole. It was the creation of the superstate from which a nation coud not withdraw except puon two years' notice and then only on condition that its obligations had been fulfilled up to the time of withdrawal. For all practical purposes, the United States, if a member, would be compelled to accept the decisions of the League or be branded as a repudriator of agreements.

An association of nations would be formed for the one purpose of agreeing upon a plan of disarmament no nation or group of nations would have any power to coerce any other nation, and the United States would be absolutely free forever after to act in each particular case according to its own judgment and conscience. The League covenant proposed to bind the United States to go to war at the command of the League. After participating in an association of nations, the United States would still be free to go to war or not go to war according to its own judgment of the right and wrong of the controversy.

The United States has been an association of other nations in the past. It was an associate in the war in Europe—not of the Allies. The United States was an associate of the other nations in activities in China during the Boxer Rebellion. The United States has been an associate of other nations in forming the Hague conferences and tribunal. But in these associations, this country has never forfeited or impaired its full right to act in its own defense, nor bound itself to act upon the commands of other nations further than its own judgment dictates.

The difference between league and an association of nations is all the difference between subservience and independence.

FINANCES FOR FARMERS

Congressman Louis T. McFadden of Pennsylvania was energetic in securing the passage through the House of the bill permitting the Treasury to deposit with the Federal Farm Loan Board a sum equal to the difference between the paid-in capital stock of the Board and $50,000,000. At present the paid-in stock amounts to about $25,000,000, so that the new deposits contemplated in the measure would amount at first to $25,000,000 also. But every borrower is required to subscribe for stock to the amount of 5 per cent of his loan, so that the paid-in stoc kis constantly increasing. As new Land Bank bonds are floated and deposits from the Treasury are returned, new deposits will be needed in constantly lessening amounts until, when the $50,000,000 worth of stock has all been paid in, the Land Banks will be self-sustaining. Mr. McFadden's measure is intended to proide additional working capital for the use of the Farm Loan Board, for the need of which it is now sorely pressed.

ONE SUBTERFUGE

The enemies of the efficient Navy resorted to many tricks in their attempt, while the naval appropriation bill was under discussion, to accomplish their purpose. One subterfuge was the offering of a series of amendments providing that no money should be spent on battleships that did not provide armaments, speed, gun calibers, etc., equal to that of any similar vessel projected by any other nation. "It has never been the policy of Congress," said Senteor Miles Poindexter of Washington, in reply to all such suggestions, "because it has never been practicable, and it is not practicable now to under take to lay down by law the details of the armor or the armament or the type or the design of ships for which it has provided. Such matters have always been left to the executive branch of the Government, because in their nature the yare such as to require executive action; they must be left to the scientists, to the professional men."

THE ALTERNATIVE

A. Lincoln Coleman, of Seattle, while at the National Capital recently, summed up the Philippine question correctly when he declared:

"It is next to absurd to speak of independence under an American protectorate. There can be no American protectorate without American responsibility for policies adopted. If the United States withdraws from the Philippines, it can not make itself responsible for policies of which it had nothing to do with the framing."

The United States wishes no responsibility for a protectorate 10,000 miles away. There is trouble enough looking after those we have nearer home. Either the guidance of this nation in Philippine affairs, or complete withdrawal of the United States from that territory, giving the people absolute control over their own destiny—that is the alternative for the Filipinos to face ultimately. But just at present we will do the selecting and retain control for a little while longer.

The country is might tired of "drives" in general, but it will vigorously back President Harding in his drive against defects.

Mr. Daugherty is right—it would be rank injustice to jail the draft evaders and let the corrupt war profiteer off with a fine or with no punishment whatever. Go to it, Harry.

Back to work is the first step toward back to normalcy.

Philadelphia North America—Mr. Harding has such a real concern for the honor of the United States army that he is unwilling to let it die in harness.

South Bend Tribune—Chicago building workmen have gone back to work. That is the end of all strikes and all lockouts.

PROPERTY PURCHASED FOR NEW SCHOOLS BY THE BURLINGAME DISTRICT

Deeds recorded Tuesday in the office of County Recorder T. C. Rice at Redwood City show the transfer of three pieces of property to the Burlingame school district. Two of these lots have been purchased from Jamse C. O'Donnell for $2500; namely, lots 17 and 18 of block 5, Subdivision No. 2, of Burlingame Park. This property is located on the corner of Newlands and Crescent avenues, and plans are now being prepared by Architect E. L. Norberg, for a school building to be erected there. The new school will be modern in every particular, plaster finish, terra cotta and crushed stone roof and brick entrance. As soon as the plans have been approved bids will be asked for. The district recently voted a $70,000 bond issue, the bids for the bonds to be opened by the Board of Supervisors on July 5.

The second piece acquired consists of three lots adjoining the Oak Grove school, being lots G. H and T. purchased from John Rosenfeld's Sons for $2500. The third piece was purchased from P. D. Mullaney for $1000 being lot 33 of Burlingame Heights.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

Who Owns the Gas and Electric Companies?

The Actual Ownership of Public Service Companies is, to a very large extent, by the people themselves. There is absolutely no concentration of ownership in a few hands. Approximately forty-one thousand individuals own the stocks, bonds and other securities of the Pacific Gas and Llectric Company.

In addition to these, there are the thousands of depositors in banks and trust companies and policy-holders in insurance companies whose intrusted funds are re-invested in considerable amount in the stable securities of public service companies. So that nearly every man, woman and child you meet on the streets is in one way or another directly concerned, whether they know it or not, in the solvency and continued operation of these companies.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS HOLD BUSY SESSION

The board of supervisors met in regular session Tuesday, July 5th, 1921.

The following bids were opened and read for the purchase of the school bonds of the Burlingame grammar school district, as advertised by the board:

Bank of Burlingame—$7,000 worth of the bonds of the first maturity.

Bradford, Weeden & Co., San Francisco—$21,000 worth of the bonds, seven of the thousand dollar bonds maturing July 1, 1923; seven of the thousand dollar bonds maturing July 1, 1926, and seven of the thousand dollar bonds maturing July 1, 1929.

The bids in both cases were for par with accrued interest.

District Attorney Swart, who was present at the meeting and who assisted in the bond proceedings, stated that the $27,000 realized from the sale of the bonds would take care of the purchase of the lot and leave something to start the building. He said that the balance of the $70,000 which was the amount of the total issue advertised for sale, could, if desired, be sold privately, and he suggested that the two bids be accepted. This action was taken by the board, on motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Hickey.

C. H. Dimmitt of Redwood City, representing the C. H. Holt Realty company, presented a map of Emerald Lake Park No. 6, a new subdivision west of Redwood City. The map was accepted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey.

The board took up at this time the matter of the hearing of the petition heretofore submitted for the closing and abandoning of First, Second and Xyris streets, as designated and described on the map of the San Mateo City Homestead Association, and now no longer needed for public use.

Attorney Lee T. Ross of Redwood City appeared in behalf of the petitioners and had John T. Barneson sworn, who testified as to the location of the streets in question and as to their not being needed for public use.

B. L. Werder, the newly appointed county fire warden addressed the board and reported that he had visited the La Honda, Alpine, Spring Valley and other districts on Sunday last and had warned picnickers about the dangers of leaving old papers and other debris strewn around the ground. He further reported tha a real estate firm of Palo Alto was renting picnic and camp sites on its property along the San Francisquito creek to people who were allowed to start fires in dangerous places.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, the county fire warden was given authority to strictly enforce the ordinance with regard to the building of fires and the dumping of rubbish.

Game Warden Jack Burke, on one of his recent trips through the mountain sections of the county, discovered that some persons are running deer with their hounds. This offense is a very serious one and carries a severe penalty. Burke asks that anyone seeing dogs running deer notify him at once, and that an endeavor be made to capture the dogs. A notice to Burke at Colma will bring him to the spot as quickly as possible. He is determined to put a stop to this flagrant violation of the game laws.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

John O'Dea, the only son of Mrs. Peter Cheregino of this place, met death in an automobile accident on the Portola road near the Stanford dam at 4:30 o'clock last Sunday morning. Frank Anderson, a chauffeur for Mrs. Louis Stern of Atherton, with Young O'Dea attended the dance at Redwood City the night before. There they met Stanley Wood and Fred Zimmerman. After the dance the party repaired to the Stern home in a Ford automobile. There they took the big Packard and went to Portola and Woodside. On returning the accident occurred. There is a curve near the Coon bridge and the driver did not make the turn. He ran off the grade, the machine striking a tree. O'Dea was in the rear seat with Wood and was struck on the head by a limb of the tree, his skull being fractured and his neck broken. Campers at that place assisted in getting the body from the machine which turned over. Coroner W. A. Crowell removed the body to Redwood City. The other occupants of the automobile were only slightly injured. The automobile was badly wrecked. John O'Dea was an overseas man, having joined the 319 engineers at Camp Fremont during the war and left with that company for France in July of 1918. He was at Brest when the war ended. He was a member of the American Legion at the Redwood Post. Mr. O'Dea was a splendid young man, of probity and honesty, beloved by his associates. He was born in Menlo Park 24 years ago and up until a short time ago was employed as a clerk in the Southern Pacific building on Market street, San Francisco. The funeral on Tuesday morning was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. His pathetic death has caused profound sorrow in Menlo Park where the young man was popular with all. His family has the sympathy of the community. He is survived by his mother and three sisters, Annie, Mary and Catherine O'Dea. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Refreshments are to be served by pretty maidens in the meadow. The place is to be converted into a veritable circus ground on that day. The proceeds of the affair will go to a fund for the care of convalescent children located at the old Stanford home on the San Francisquito creek. It is a worthy cause and all should attend, thus giving their aid and support to it.

FIRST thing you do next—go get some makin's papers and some Prince Albert tobacco and puff away on a home made cigarette that will hit on all your smoke cylinders!

No use sitting-by and saying maybe you'll cash this hunch tomorrow. Do it while the going's good, for man-o-man, you can't figure out what you're passing by! Such flavor, such coolness, such more-ish-ness—well, the only way to get the words emphatic enough is to go to it and know yourself!

And, besides Prince Albert's delightful flavor, there's its freedom from bite and parch which is cut out by our exclusive patented process! Certainly—you smoke P. A. from sun up till you slip between the sheets without a comeback.

Prince Albert is the tobacco that revolutionized pipe smoking. If you never could smoke a pipe—forget it! You can—AND YOU WILL—if you use Prince Albert for packing! It's a smoke revelation in a jimmy pipe or a cigarette!

Prince Albert is sold in toppy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors and in the pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top.
